

Applying for a Post-Graduation Work Permit (PGWP)

from inside Canada

Before you apply

Take note of your study permit expiry date

If your study permit will expire on or around the last day of your classes,

Recommendation:

Work authorizations

Work authorizations at the end of your program of study

After your last day of classes but before you receive your letter of completion

After you receive your letter of completion

There does not need to be a break in your work authorizations if you are prepared to submit your PGWP application as soon as you receive your letter of completion.

After you submit your PGWP application
